Montauk Yacht Club: On Sale for $70 A Night

POSTED AS: travel talk
March 22, 2010

Any regular reader of jauntsetter will know how much we adore Montauk, especially in the off-season. And so it's with great delight that we bring news of a Jetsetter private sale for one of the beachtown's newly remodeled properties: The Montauk Yacht Club.

Normally over $100/night in March, rates start at just $70 during the week (and $105 over the weekend). In April, room rates go up to $95/night, a bargain compared to the $158/night the hotel usually charges.

While we've never stayed at the hotel, friends have, and give it two thumbs way up. The only downside? Somewhat thin walls, which shouldn't be a problem in the quiet shoulder season. For more on Montauk, check out our latest post on the East End town here. Not a jetsetter member? Not to worry - you can get your invite code here (it's free!).
