

RESORT & MARINA

Media Coverage | HAMPTONS Magazine July 28, 2011

dispatch

JEFFREY SLONIM

I left early on Friday night to beat the crowds but so did everyone else. I had to stand on one leg for part of the trip on the LIRR and was practically shaking by the time I got to Jill and Bobby Zarin's Anti-Bullying and Defamation benefit dinner at Georgica in Wainscott.

Dispatches then raced to Montauk for the Crazy, Stupid, Love screening at the Montauk Yacht Club. The film showed on an inflatable screen, and handlers plumped pillows for Bethenny Frankel, who was staying at Villas. The drive back to Stephen Klein's farm in Bridgehampton for the AIDS Community Research Initiative of America (ACRIA) event was harrowing. Montauk has turned into a giant frat bash. The street in front of The Surf Lodge is a yuppie obstacle course, and Memory Motel also has a sea of revelers. The new Montauk 7-Eleven, by the way, offers numerous versions of beer pong.

<http://hamptons-magazine.com/blogs/dispatch/postings/hot-town-summer-in-the-city>

THEVELVETROADGROUP

119 West 40th Street 14th Floor New York 10018 212.999.5584 Facsimile 917.777.0004