

US WEEKLY

July 13, 2009

THIS MINUTE

YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT...

Summer's Hottest Spots

From chic Japanese eats to posh pools, here's where the stars are hanging

The Standard

Brad Pitt and Madonna take in the sites from the floor-to-ceiling windows in this NYC boutique hotel. The 18-story structure straddles the city's new, elevated park, the High Line (Amy Poehler has already strolled through). (standardhotel.com)

Bond Street

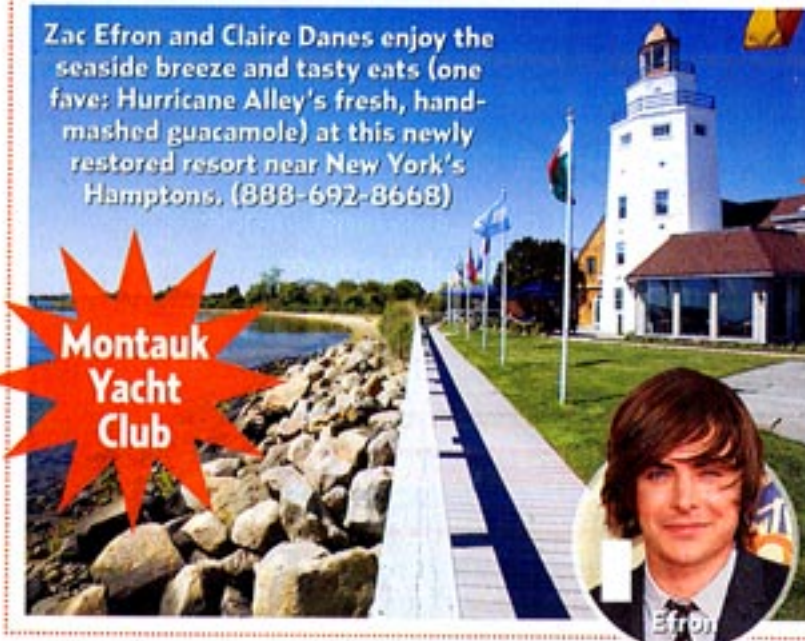

Eva Longoria Parker munches Japanese cuisine (think spicy tuna on crispy rice) at this eatery in the Thompson Beverly Hills hotel. (310-601-2255)

Mariah Carey digs the view from the cabanas at this Miami rooftop lounge. (305-448-5088)

Amy Adams listens to tunes poolside at this Las Vegas hot spot at Caesars Palace. (venuspoolclub.com)

Zac Efron and Claire Danes enjoy the seaside breeze and tasty eats (one fave: Hurricane Alley's fresh, hand-mashed guacamole) at this newly restored resort near New York's Hamptons. (888-692-8668)

Matthew McConaughey and Angie Harmon like the luxe stores (Alice + Olivia) and green mind-set — the complex was built with ecofriendly materials — at this open-air shopping center.